Truman To Select New Wage Board Members; Price Chieftain Named

Freehill Gets Top OPS Post

Backlog Of 12,000 Cases To Face Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman was expected to prop up his budgeted controls program today by naming new industry members to the Wage Stabilization Board after picking a new boss for the price curb machine.

The President appointed Joseph H. Freehill Friday as administrator of the Office of Price Stabilization. Freehill, a native New Yorker, had been acting in that capacity since Tighe Woods resigned Nov. 24.

Truman told his Thursday news conference he would end the WSB paralysis before the week was out. And Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said a few hours later he had sent a list of proposed appointees to the White House.

The WSB has been unable to get to its backlog of 12,000 cases since the seven industry members resigned a week ago. They quit in a protest against Truman's action in overruling the board to bring a soft coal miners' wage increase to $1.90 a day instead of the $1.50 a day approved by WSB.

BY LAW THE three-cornered WSB can not meet unless all segments—industry, unions, the public—are represented.

The President's attempts to shore up the anti-inflation program came under mounting pressure for the settling of wage-price controls. But he showed no sign of being moved by the opposition of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers or the CIO.

After his appointment as OPS chief Friday, Freehill promptly announced that one-fourth of his staff must be laid off because of a lack of funds.

Freehill said OPS will cut its payroll from an estimated 5,650 employees on Jan. 1 to 4,125 by Jan. 31. Dismissal notices will go out after Christmas, he said, to 400 workers in Washington and about 1,000 in the agency's 93 field offices.

"This move is necessary," the statement said, "so we can live within the amount of money that Congress gave us to operate until next April 30 when the controls will expire unless an extension is approved."

Freehill said Congress appropriated $36,900,000 of the 62 million dollars OPS requested for operating expenses from last July through next April. He said less than 10 millions will be left on Jan. 1.

TV Network For Ohio Seen In Proposal

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio soon may have a network of educational television stations which can potentially reach into any home in the state.

The network is proposed in a report adopted Friday by the Ohio Program Commission. It would tie in five state universities, Ohio State, Kent, Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University, educational TV stations in Cleveland and Cincinnati and—possibly later—private schools which wish to participate.

Commission chairman Roscoe R. Walcott hailed educational television as possibly "the greatest single development in mass education since public schools were established."

The network is designed to take advantage of ultra-high frequency channels reserved for educational television by the Federal Communications Commission.

Con Guardsmen Awarded Bonus

CAMP PERRY (AP)—Ohio National Guardsmen, watching prisoners moved here after the riot and fire at Ohio Penitentiary, received roughly $50 apiece in extra pay Friday.

The money, from the state welfare department, is in addition to their military pay and covers the Nov. 16-30 period.

Bradley Caught In Middle Of Truman-Eisenhower Tiff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mild Gen. Omar Bradley, who doesn't like arguments, was back in town today and faced with prospects of finding himself the piddie man in an Eisenhower-Truman tiff.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and World War II colleague of Eisenhower in the battle of Europe, was picked by President-elect Eisenhower to go with him on the journey to Korea.

Eisenhower said that mission, from which he is now returning, was to seek a way for honorable conclusion of the war. But President Truman says the trip was the result of campaign demagoguery by Eisenhower.

The JCS chairman flew back to Washington Friday night, in company with Cabinet officers and advisers Eisenhower has selected and

Roks Reclaim Little Nori From Commies

SEOUL (AP)—Tough Little South Korean troops today stormed to the top of Little Nori Hill lost more than two days ago, drove off Red remnants, then stuck there under heavy pounding from Communist guns and infantry assaults.

Other Republic of Korea soldiers attacked Reds on Big Nori, some 300 yards to the north.

Both western front hills, gateposts on the traditional northern invasion route to this old capital, were grabbed by Communists in swift attacks early Thursday.

The drive up steep, frozen Little Nori was the 10th counterslash by the Roks. It turned out to be the sixth time the peak has changed hands since the Chinese picked it as the scene for their latest small-scale offensive.

The Nori fighting, reminiscent of the hot battles on Sniper Ridge and Triangle Hill in Central Korea a month ago, has cost the Reds an estimated 1,100 dead, wounded and captured. The estimate did not include Red losses today, or the toll taken by artillery and planes pounding the Communist staging areas immediately behind the two Noris.

who were in the mid-Pacific conferences earlier in the week.

IT WAS EXPECTED he would make an official report at the White House today on the military situation he found in Korea, where Eisenhower and his party conferred with theater and field commanders.

But such an otherwise formal and routine report by an officer to his commander-in-chief had interesting possibilities.

What might the angry President have to say or ask about the President-elect he roundly denounced on two successive days?

And what would the benign Bradley do if the conversation took that turn?

Bradley, who usually is somewhat taciturn, was even less glib when he stepped down from the plane Friday night.

He said to a reporter that it had been a long trip. He expanded this, in talking to an aide, by saying the conferees were "plenty busy in Hawaii" where Eisenhower met Cabinet designees and advisers who had flown out to meet him.

Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons, retired Army officer who will be a White House adviser to Eisenhower, described it as an informative trip which "provided opportunity to talk about problems with the men who have to handle them."

Warren Girl Singers Faint In Groups

WARREN (AP)—Girls in Warren high school choir have been fainting—in groups as high as seven—right in the middle of their song.

Just a fad, said School Supt. Paul A. Miller today. The first girl swooned, he said, and the others follow suit.

Anyway, seven girls fainted Tuesday, while singing for the Exchange Club. On Wednesday, six swooned at the Rotary luncheon. The Kiwanians were startled Thursday to see five pass out.

Dr. Carl F. Scheig, the choir director, thinks the girls should eat something before a performance. Or, he says, maybe it's "auto-suggestion."

Friday, singing before the school assembly, all stayed on their feet. Doctors have checked the girls after each fainting spell and have failed to find anything wrong.

Pennsy Express Train Derailed

URBANA (AP)—A Pittsburgh-St. Louis express train was derailed eight miles east of here Friday night.

There were no passengers aboard and none of the crew was injured. Fourteen of the 16 cars left the rails. The Pennsylvania Railroad said the cause had not been determined.

Ike's Win Margin Was 6,616,233

61,547,861 Vote For President; General Given 55.1 Pct. Edge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower defeated Gov. Adlai Stevenson for president on Nov. 4 by 6,616,233 as a vote-conscious electorate marked a record-smashing 61,547,861 ballots.

Eisenhower polled 55.1 per cent of the total presidential vote, Stevenson 44.4 and others 0.5. The "others" were minor party candidate votes. Eisenhower's ratio of the major party vote was 55.4, Stevenson's 44.6.

These are the official figures compiled as the last four states reported their canvasses Friday to complete the national count:

Eisenhower 33,927,549
Stevenson 27,311,316
Others 308,996

Presidential electors will cast their votes in the respective states Monday showing Eisenhower to have carried 39 states with an electoral vote of 442 and Stevenson to have won only nine states with 89. Congress in joint session will make the count ultra-official Jan. 6 and Eisenhower will take office Jan. 20.

THE 1952 OFFICIAL figures show many records were broken in an election that gave Eisenhower a tremendous personal victory. The total vote broke the previous record of 1940 by 11,727,549, and exceeded the 1948 aggregate by 12,859,572.

Thirty-nine states showed a better than 70 per cent turnout in relation to their estimated eligibles. Where actual registrations were known it is believed that New York led in this category with 91 per cent. Rhode Island, Connecticut, Idaho, Massachusetts, Michigan, Oklahoma and Utah exceeded this but only in percentages based on "estimated registrations" which could have been too low.

All told, a total of 62,042,777 ballots were cast over the nation, but only 61,547,861 were officially counted for president.

The higher figure, never entered in the record books, includes the highest vote in each state regardless of the contest. It embraces

Use Of Bleach Costs Man $50

COLUMBUS (AP)—Last March Frank Reid, 25, was arrested for speeding. The traffic law violation was duly entered on the back of his driver's license.

Friday, he tried to pay a fine for crashing a red light Dec. 3. The March violation, however, didn't appear on the license.

Reid told police he had experimented on the entry with a household bleach to see if on some other papers he was filling out. Municipal Judge Wayne Fogle fined Reid $50 and costs for "altering or defacing an operator's license."

5 Universities Woo Marilyn Monroe To Get Manuscripts

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those Max Reinhardt manuscript books that Marilyn Monroe bought at auction have become "a Jonah to me," the actress says.

"So many schools want them, I hardly know what to do," she wailed Friday night as a fifth university joined in the dignified clamor for the late theatrical producer's volumes.

Marilyn said the latest plea was from the University of Kansas City. Previously USC, UCLA, Stanford and Harvard each let her know it would certainly like to add the books to their shelves.

Meanwhile USC tried a new wrinkle in wooing Marilyn's favor. A 20th-Century Fox spokesman said an invitation had been conveyed from the SC librarian to join him in his 50-yard-line box at the Rose Bowl football game on New Year's Day. The invitation included any additional guest of her choosing. Marilyn hasn't decided about accepting.

blank and void votes—those marked for state or local candidates but not for president, and those thrown out for improper marking.

An indication of the Republican candidate's personal triumph is seen in the fact that he ran ahead of his party's ticket in 31 states. He lagged behind GOP state candidates in Arizona, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Stevenson outpolled Democratic state tickets in only nine states and they topped his vote in 28. The nine where he led his party's ticket were Arizona, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North and South Dakota.

The better showing by Eisenhower than Stevenson in relation to their party's state tickets explains in large measure why the Republicans came up with such slim majorities in Congress. Despite Eisenhower's popular vote margin, his party showed net gains of only 19 House members, two senators and five governors.

Newsman Hit For Truman's Slam At Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—News Commentator H. V. Kaltenborn said Friday night reporters were more responsible than President Truman for what he called the President's "ill-tempered" remark concerning President-elect Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He said in an NBC broadcast heard across the nation except in New York that the President "should not permit himself to be trapped into indiscretions by clever appeals to his personal prejudices."

Kaltenborn suggested Eisenhower might be wise to require questions to be submitted in advance in writing in the manner that questions are asked of the prime minister in the British House of Commons.

The radio commentator referred to Truman's news conference Thursday in which the President described Eisenhower's Korean trip as demagoguery and blasted MacArthur on several grounds.

Kaltenborn said the exchanges between White House reporters and the President pointed up "the danger of a news conference at which a president of the United States allows himself to be led by the nose by clever reporters."

UN Studies Morocco's Heated Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The UN put the explosive situation in French-ruled Morocco to an examination today, only a few hours after winding up a tense debate on Tunisia, another French North African protectorate.

Rushing to finish up as much of its business as possible before the Christmas holidays, the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee took only a half day rest before opening discussion on violence-torn Morocco.

The committee completed its debate on Tunisia Friday night with the adoption of a mildly-worded Latin American resolution which merely asked France to negotiate on Tunisian demands for independence. The vote was 45-3 with 10 abstentions, including the Reds and Britain.

Earlier the committee had voted down 27-24 a tougher Arab-Asian resolution which called for French-Tunisian negotiations under a three-man UN good offices commission. Seven nations abstained on that ballot.

France was absent from the Tunisian debate and has given advance notice she will not attend the discussions on Morocco. She maintains her relations with the two protectorates are an internal matter and no concern of the UN.

Price Of Homes To Hold, Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The price of homes isn't coming down any time soon, the National Association of Real Estate Boards predicts.

The association's report is based on a survey of real estate boards in 245 communities. Ninety-one per cent of the boards taking part in the survey predicted stable or even higher prices for new homes during the next six months; only 9 per cent forecast prices would drop.

ville who are handy at building, using a hammer and saw, are asked to report to the site of the new building to pitch in and help with actual building.

Circleville lumber companies are sending lumber to the site Saturday in preparation for the volunteer building program.

Actual construction of the home to replace the larger, burned-out dwelling, will be by Karl Smith, Circleville construction company operator.

The home is to be no marvelous, new palace erected on the ashes of the former tar-paper dwelling, but rather just to replace the home as it was before fire leveled it.

All of the work is to be done for Montford (the Mole) Pollock family and Charles Pollock family, who were left homeless.

Huge and overwhelming donations of materials of all kinds have been pouring into the pot for the Pollocks, including complete supplies of household goods, clothing, food and cash.

Circleville American Legion members are to play a key role in the building program Sunday, along with tradesmen from the city who want to lend a helping hand in the project.

EXTRA cement blocks were donated Saturday by the Sturm and Dillard Gravel Co. when the original order was found to be too light. The gravel company has donated 200 cement blocks, 10 bags of mortar cement and two tons of sand to the project.

One of the top gestures was made by roofing concerns of the city, who will take over when the house is raised to completely roof it.

And a much-needed item, wiring, has been donated by Circleville REA.

Hardware supplies have been offered in plentiful quantity by Koeheisers, Cussins and Fearn, Boyers and Harpster and Yost, while lumber donations have been made by Ankrom's, Barnes, DeVoss, Circleville Lumber Co. and Alfred Lee. Other lumber donations have been made by Arnold Fannin and Herschel Hill.

Chief McCrady Gets Ticket

Circleville Police Chief William F. McCrady this week was tagged with a traffic violation ticket.

The Chief's car was tagged at about 7:30 p. m. Thursday at Washington and Walnut streets by Officer John White.

White said the Chief's car was parked on the sidewalk on the Walnut street side. He added the Chief has not yet settled for the ticket.

Normal procedure used by the department for other persons accused of traffic violations is for a postcard to be dispatched within one week, even though each ticket says the person receiving it must report within 24 hours.

Next step is for Officer Rod List in handling the traffic tickets to notify the Chief when a person fails to appear, and a letter is sent by the Chief to the ticket-holder, usually with good results.

Cold Shoulder Believed Ahead For Truman

'Demagoguery' Jibe Irks General, Say Advisers In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—A reliable source today said President Truman's "demagoguery" statement cut President-elect Eisenhower deeply and just about killed any chance of friendly relations between the two in the future.

This reaction was disclosed a short time before Eisenhower was to leave Hawaii bound for New York City, which he left secretly just two weeks ago for Korea. He is due to arrive at the Marine air terminal at LaGuardia Field at 1 p. m. (EST) Sunday.

It was learned that Eisenhower was shocked and puzzled by President Truman's blast at his Korean trip. Informants said the President-elect felt the Truman statement was uncalled for, undignified and should be ignored.

The informants said Eisenhower would continue along the course he has set to find a solution to the Korean conflict, including a study of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals.

The once friendly relationship between Eisenhower and Truman, it was said, had been badly strained by accusations made during the heat of the presidential campaign, but the new incident points to a chilly, formal relationship in the future.

"THIS LOOKS like the finish of any informal across-the-desk meetings between the two," this source said. "If there is another meeting it probably will be a cold affair."

Truman told a news conference Thursday that the Eisenhower trip to Korea was a "piece of political demagoguery." It is known here that Eisenhower thinks this was a low blow which he did not deserve from the President.

Also, Eisenhower is represented as thinking that the Truman statement was poor psychology for the troops in Korea who had received a lift in spirits from his visit to combat units.

The President-elect considers the Korean trip, and the conferences that followed with his top advisers, a worthwhile venture that already has paid good dividends in the formation of future policy.

The general held his final major conference with his advisers Thursday evening before most of them left Hawaii to return to the mainland.

One of his advisers said, "This meeting was the most important of the whole trip. It was brief, but (Continued on Page Two)"

Neighbors Join Shooting Duel During Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shooting barrage by neighbors and the son of a tavern keeper, during a $3,000 robbery Friday, wounded two men and led to the arrest of two other persons.

Mrs. Mary Wolinski, mother of the Wolinski Tavern's owner, ran for help as three men held up a bartender.

Martin Drabek and his son Henry, called from a nearby shop, opened fire at the fleeing men. Mrs. Wolinski's son, Ray, heard the commotion, broke open a second story window and fired from there.

John Wilson, 21, and Richard Morris, 22, were arrested when they went to a hospital and a doctor's office for medical aid. Wilson, in fair condition, was quoted by police as saying he did it "so my family would have a good Christmas." Morris was reported in good condition.

Police also arrested Mrs. Dorothy Lee Howard, sister of Morris, as the driver of a getaway car. Another man, identified by patrolmen as Clarence Butler, 25, was apprehended later. The money still is missing.

Taft, Bridges Due For Talk

Senate Leadership May Be Given Airing

WASHINGTON — A casual meeting tonight at a banquet may provide a clue to the identity of the Republican majority leader in the new Senate opening Jan. 3.

Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Taft (R-Ohio), two of the men discussed most prominently for the leadership post, are to be guests at the Gridiron Club Dinner at a downtown hotel.

Also expected to attend the Gridiron Dinner are two of President-elect Eisenhower's Cabinet choices — Herbert Brownell, attorney general, and George Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury, who returned here Friday night from their Pacific conference with the general.

Bridges told a news conference Friday he expected to talk with Taft at the dinner about Senate organization problems.

The Ohio senator, long his party's most influential spokesman on Capitol Hill, might indicate in that chat how he feels now about the leadership situation.

THERE WAS no indication that Brownell or Humphrey might sit in on the Bridges-Taft conversation, although Brownell has played a prominent role in helping shape the new administration.

GOP senators now in Washington have turned increasingly toward Bridges for the leadership job in the last week.

The New Hampshire senator himself confirmed that he had been under growing pressure to take the job since Taft blasted President-elect Eisenhower's choice of Martin P. Durkin to be secretary of labor.

Some Republican senators have said they feared Taft's blistering statement might cause a party split — something they want to avoid at all costs. They look to Bridges as the best compromise choice for leader.

147,000 U.S. Churches Give Christian View Of Problems

DENVER — Representatives of 147,000 American churches headed home today after issuing an unprecedented document aimed at sketching a Christian approach to the problems of our times.

The "Letter to the Christian People of America," adopted by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA, calls on churches to "sensitize the conscience of the nation."

It urges unflinching support of the United Nations, patience in solving world disputes, a halt to character assassination, a stronger religious context in education.

It asks the religious faithful to seek public office, even at personal sacrifice, condemn racial discrimination and appeals for a "pioneer spirit" in fortifying Christianity.

"The Christian church," the message said, "stands today in an alien world which is missionary in the absolute sense."

DR. JOHN MACKAY, president of Princeton Theological Seminary and head of a committee that drafted the original message, said Christian churches as a group had never before joined in a pronouncement of such scope.

It was adopted unanimously at the final session Friday of the general assembly of the council, which includes 30 denominations with about 35 million members.

The assembly also elected a new president, Methodist Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, Tex., to succeed Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of Greenwich, Conn.

Championing the role of the combined churches in speaking out on questions of national life, Bishop Martin declared:

"I am concerned that our pronouncements on issues be wise, timely and courageous, and above all, express the mind of Christ for this day as nearly as we can interpret it."

The 59-year-old Southern bishop touched on two major points:

He said he had no "definite convictions" on whether the headquarters of the national council should be moved from New York to a more central site. But he said if this isn't done, there at least should be a Midwest office.

SOME SUCH step is necessary, he suggested, to enable greater direct participation in council affairs by Westerners and Southwesterners.

He also said he had hopes that the Southern Baptists and the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran church, the only two major Protestant groups not part of the council, will form closer ties.

Legion Corps Gives Status Of Toy Tour

Circleville American Legion drum and bugle corps is anxious to gather any toys it may have missed in the South during the first two rounds of the Toy Tour.

The Toy Tour is scheduled for the North next Thursday night.

Southland collections on the opening night of the collections had to be halted because of a downpour of rain. It was hoped some of the Southland could be covered on the night set for central-city pickups, spokesmen for the corps explained, but this later proved impossible.

Collections in the central sections netted a full truckload of toys, in addition to $50 in cash contributions, even before all of the central area had been checked.

STRESSING the corps is anxious to know of any toys that remain to be picked up south of Main street, James P. Shea, member of the Legion unit, urged residents to remember his telephone number—351.

"We know we haven't been able to cover all the streets we wanted to check," Shea said, "but we're doing the best we can. Meanwhile, if we're told of any toys remaining to be picked up south of Main Street, we'll make special arrangements to get them."

The Legion corps, sponsoring the Toy Tour as a civic gesture with the aid of Boy Scouts, has reminded donors that broken toys cannot be accepted. Used toys however, will be welcome.

The toys are being gathered at Memorial Hall and will be distributed to needy children in the district.

very, very important in setting the course of the new administration."

It is understood there were no pin-point decisions made but that the group "did a lot of business" in establishing overall agreements in which Korea was a part.

SINCE THAT meeting, Eisenhower has spent most of his time playing golf, resting and trying to shake off a cold.

He is expected to return to his Commodore Hotel headquarters in New York Monday to continue his work there.

There is a likelihood he will meet with MacArthur some time next week to hear MacArthur's views on Korea.

MacArthur recently implied he had a plan for peace in Korea. President Truman has said that if he has MacArthur should present it to him and not wait.

One source reported there already has been "some strain at the high level" between Eisenhower's liaison men, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass) and Joseph M. Dodge, and Truman's Cabinet members.

He said there had been no friction below the Cabinet level and added he did not think what friction there was would create any problem in the orderly transfer of government from Democratic to Republican control.

Holy Name Society Backs Pledge On Christmas Meaning

Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church here has endorsed a movement launched by the National Council of Catholic Men to "put Christ back in Christmas."

The national group said it will ask all Catholic men to subscribe to a 10-point pledge which draws attention to religious significance of the Nativity.

Local endorsement was announced for the Society by Msgr. George O. Mason, pastor of St. Joseph's.

Following are the 10 points in the NCCM Christmas Pledge:

1. I promise to make my Christmas a holy day with Christ—not a holiday without Him.
2. I promise to observe Christmas as the Birthday of Christ—not merely as a day to give and receive merchandise.
3. I promise to remember that the real symbols of Christmas are the Star, the Stable, and the Crib—not Santa Claus and his reindeer.
4. I promise to teach my children that "Santa Claus" is the nickname of St. Nicholas, who gave to the poor in honor of Christ.
5. I promise to help one poor family, in honor of Jesus, Mary and Joseph, the Holy Family of Bethlehem.
6. I promise to send Christmas cards reminding of Him, the Infant Savior—not cards decorated only with candy canes, puppy dogs, ribbons and wreaths.
7. I promise to make room in my home for Him, Who found no room at the inn; with a Christmas crib to remind me that He was born in a stable.
8. I promise during this season in a special way, to honor Mary, His mother, who kept the first Christmas vigil beside the manger.
9. I promise to begin this day by leading my family to His table to receive the Bread of Life.
10. I promise, on this and every day, to give "Glory to God in the Highest," and to work and pray for "Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will."

'Soul Journey' Is Theme For Christ Church

Church of Christ will meet Sunday in the Farm Bureau Home, 159 E. Main St. The sermon subject for the 10:30 a. m. worship will be "The Journey of a Soul."

In a brief outline given to this lesson, Evangelist Charles Cochran says:

"When an infant is born into this world it is in a state of innocence. It has no sin to cause it to be lost and should it die in its infancy it would be safe in the paradise of God. When the child grows to the age of accountability it then is responsible for its deeds and actions and as no individual is good enough to live in this sinful world without sinning (1 John 1:8-10), and as the 'wages of sin is death' (Rom. 6:23), then the individual is in a state of condemnation before God."

"Should one die while in this state he would die without hope and alienated from God (Eph. 2:12)."

"Obedience to the gospel plan of salvation brings us into a state of justification before God. 'Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are become new' (2 Cor. 5:17). There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit' (Rom. 8:1)."

"The consummating step that puts one into Christ is baptism. 'For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ' (Gal. 3:27)."

"After becoming a new creature in Christ and living faithfully unto death the child of God is assured of the crown of life (Rev. 2:10). Our salvation is hinged upon our 'being faithful' to death. It is possible to fall away and be a castaway. Hear Paul, 'But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway' (1 Cor. 9:27)."

TV Program Set For Those Bedfast

Local residents have been asked to call the attention of bedfast persons to a religious television program scheduled Sunday over WTVN, Channel 6.

The 30-minute program, scheduled for 1:30 p. m., will feature the Country Church Quartet of Circleville.

Floyd Ruff of Amanda, manager of the quartet, said the program is intended for "as many sick and bedfast persons as we can reach."

Christmas Peace Sermon Planned For First EUB

"The Peace of Christmas" is the sermon theme for worship Sunday in First Evangelical United Brethren church at 9:30 a. m.

Advent music by Miss Lucille Kirkwood, organist, is prelude, "Moonlight over Nazareth"; offertory, "O Come, O Come, Immanuel"; and postlude, "Procession of the Magi."

The congregation will sing a Christmas hymn, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," followed by the scriptural exhortation by Church School Superintendent Edwin Richardson and morning prayer by the pastor.

Church Choir, under the direction of Montford Kirkwood Jr., will sing an anthem, "Winds through the Olive Trees."

The scriptural directive in St. Luke 2:10 and 11 serves as the foundation for the message, "The Peace of Christmas."

Of this Advent theme the Rev. Carl L. Wilson says: "The event which projected this scripture is the nativity of the world's Redeemer; an event of most astonishing and glorious description; an unprecedented event; an event which only occurred once within the history of the world."

"The coming of the angel, an ambassador from heaven to earth, from God to man, was a messenger of peace. God especially honored the calling of the shepherds to whom the news came and they reacted in perfect peace as they set forth to find the Christ-child."

"They were at peace in soul when they knelt at the manger altar to worship Him. The tidings that a prophecy had been fulfilled and that a Messiah had come quieted the anxious hearts of every true believer. Tidings of divine grace and salvation brought peace to all who heard and believed. The dignity, power and glory of God was manifested in the giving of His Son, the Anointed One, the Sent One, commissioned and qualified to bring 'good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.'"

"There is peace expressed in this universal application of good tidings. Christ as Saviour, first to the Jews. He was of their seed and lived with them. But 'to all people' brings peace to the Gentiles in that Christ the Lord is Saviour of all. Is the end and peace of Christ's birth answered in us today? Is He truly Saviour and Lord indeed? If so then let all people rejoice in this peace, this spiritual joy, this eternal revelation."

Church school classes will study a Bible lesson, "Jesus Dispel Fear." The School is graded with classes meeting in separate rooms for Christian education instruction and Bible study.

Children's department will meet in the service center at 9:30 a. m. for its class sessions, followed by junior church worship service from 10:30 a. m. until 11:00 a. m.

Mankind Theme To Be Heard In Calvary Church

"Mankind, Human and Divine" is the sermon topic which the Rev. James A. Herbst of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church has chosen for worship service Sunday.

The sermon is based upon scripture story of the life of Peter, taken from the book of Luke and Acts, which shows the truly human side of Peter and then his Christ-likeness after God had fully entered into his life. Peter is but a reflection of mankind today and the best and the worst that can be expected from him in accordance to what his relationship is to God and Christ.

The Rev. Mr. Herbst will be assisted in the service of worship by Clark Zwyer, Miss Minnie Wilkerson and the Senior Choir. During the direction of Mrs. J. A. Herbst, Zwyer, assistant Sunday School superintendent, will lead in the call to worship, Gloria Patri, Apostle's hymns.

During the service of worship, materials will be given to the congregation regarding the Evangelical United Brethren Children's Home in Flat Rock, which receives the Christmas offering from throughout a part of the denomination each year.

Following worship, the congregation will go to various Sunday school classes where they will be led in the study of a lesson, "Jesus Dispel Fear," by the teachers of the school under the direction of Zwyer.

The Children's Department will have their class period during the worship of the adults and then close with their own worship period under the direction of Mrs. DeLong, Children's director, and the teachers of her department.

Presbyterians To Have Rite On Advent

With seasonal emphasis upon the Advent of our Lord, worship in Presbyterian church Sunday points to the nearer approach of that eve before Christmas when, in the little town of Bethlehem of Judea, land from the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea, innkeepers greeted a young husband and wife, both weary with travel, saying, "We have no room."

Reading from the new Standard Revised Version of the Bible, the record of this historic event in the Gospel of St. Luke, chapter 2, the Rev. Donald Mitchell will deliver a sermon on the subject: "No Room."

The Choir will lead the congregation in the singing of carols depicting the birth. Mrs. M. W. Burkhardt will sing a soprano solo, "Lullaby," from the Christmas Cantata, "Bethlehem."

Sharing the worship of the hour will be the members of the SOS, and Hi-Y Clubs of Circleville High School and their advisors.

At 2 p. m., all members of Westminster Fellowship Youth Group will meet in the church.

At 8 p. m., the Couples Club will meet in the Social Rooms for a tree trimming ceremony and Christmas Program, at which time provisions and supplies for a needy family will be prepared and packed ready for delivery.

Baptism Rite Planned Sunday By Lutherans

Baptism will be observed Sunday during worship service in Trinity Lutheran church with the Rev. George Troutman officiating.

He will also accept as members adults through the "Rite of Confirmation" and by letter of transfer.

The Rev. Mr. Troutman will preach on the text Matt. 7:13 and 14, using the theme, "Confirmation, a Day of Decision." He will stress we are to decide first our destination, whether we desire life eternal or everlasting destruction.

"Once you have made that decision, then you are to choose the proper entrance and way that leads to your destination. 'The gate is wide and the way is easy, that leads to destruction, and who enter by it are many.'"

"But the way and entrance to eternal life is much different," says Pastor Troutman, "For the gate is narrow and the way is hard, that leads to life, and those who find it are few."

"True the way is not easy; but we press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus," being fully confident that we 'can do all things in Him who strengthens us.'"

Prince Of Peace Contest Planned Monday Evening

Five Pickaway County youngsters will meet Monday evening in Circleville's Presbyterian church to compete for the county Prince of Peace declamation contest championship.

Winner of the county contest, to begin at 8 p. m. Monday by direction of the Rev. Donald Mitchell, will receive a silver medal and compete in a district contest in January. State finals will be Jan. 29 in Columbus.

The public is invited to Monday's county finals.

Bible Words To Live By

Matthew 5:13-14:—"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltiness be restored?—You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid."

Christian character is the essential saving quality in our world. It is always dependable as a consistent and positive power in determining the moral quality of society. It demonstrates an unmistakable and a courageous faith in the moral and spiritual order of the world ruled by a God of justice, righteousness, love and mercy.

Jesus made Christian character central and basic. His followers "are salt" and "are light." It would have been entirely different if he had said "You have salt" and "You have light." There is a vast difference in having an external something in our possession and in being something ourselves. The language of Jesus is clear. It requires us to be "salt" and to be "light."

Christian character is constant and unchanging. It faithfully expresses and reveals its Christlike qualities in every situation and under all circumstances. It can never conform to the worldly ways of convenience and expediency.

It reveals Christian brotherliness at all times to all persons.

"I promise to do all that I can to strengthen public opinion against the production of indecent and immoral films, and to unite with all who protest against them."

Jesus Dispel Fear

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buascher

Scripture—Matthew 14.

Herod had John the Baptist executed to fulfill a promise he had made to his wife's daughter, who had pleased him by her dancing. The disciples buried his body and went and told Jesus.

After hearing of John the Baptist's death, Jesus went into the wilderness, but multitudes followed Him. When evening had come He fed five thousand souls with five loaves and two fishes.

Jesus commanded the disciples to take a ship to cross the sea. Later, after He had prayed alone, Jesus went to the sea and walked on the water to join them in the ship.

Landing in Gennesaret, the men of that place heard of Jesus' presence and brought their diseased to Him. Many were made whole.

SOVIET STRIDES

THAT THE RUSSIANS have not weakened in the struggle for air supremacy is to be seen in new disclosures on Soviet aircraft progress.

Jane's authentic "All the World's Aircraft" handbook lists development by the Reds of a B-29 prototype which can release two jet fighters from high altitudes, an advanced Russian jet faster than the MIG-15, and a new six-engine bomber believed capable of flying from Russia to U.S. targets and back.

All this is over and above the fact that the Russian aircraft industry is currently outproducing American plants by an uncomfortable margin. It is contended, of course, that Russian planes are less intricate than U.S.

It is also argued that American production could overtake the Russian lead if it is given full throttle, which presumably will not happen unless there is all-out war.

A desire to rev up the U.S. war machine is the first reaction to news of new Russian air strides. But such impatience is regarded in many circles as weakness that must be restrained. With the U.S. carrying water on both shoulders, in terms of balanced military and civilian production, little more can be expected of the nation's present aircraft development and production program than is being achieved.

MAC AND IKE

AS GENERAL EISENHOWER comes home after his momentous inspection trip to Korea, followed by top level conferences with his cabinet disignees, world attention is focused more sharply than ever on possible ways to resolve the conflict.

Most frequently expressed opinion resulting from the President-elect's dramatic tour is that if an armistice is not reached by spring a large-scale offensive will be mounted shortly thereafter.

Meantime, in New York General MacArthur intimates he has in mind a definite solution for ending the Korean stalemate.

Eisenhower's initial expression of the situation as expressed to the press is that it admits of military improvement but not of miracles. This is the reaction of a skilled military observer. As a rational person Eisenhower knows only too well that his three-day breathtaking spin on and over the embattled peninsula does not qualify him as an expert.

These Days

The 83rd Congress is likely to be an investigative body, seeking an explanation for events that occurred perhaps long ago and about which little or nothing can be done any longer, but which can guide Congress in the preparation of legislation to prevent similar acts.

For instance, the evasion of the Constitution by President Truman in the matter of the Korean War, already investigated by the Russell Committee, requires further study. Under the Charter of the United Nations, President Truman had the right to send Americans to Korea; the Charter actually amends the Constitution. Senator Bricker is fighting out that issue with a proposed amendment to the Constitution that will also require investigation and analysis.

I understand that Senator Homer Ferguson will have another look at what happened at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. There has been one investigation of that event, but it left the whole matter hanging in the air. The report of the investigators is so full of loop-holes, of omissions and the whole report is so covered with white-wash, that it may be said that no accurate statement of the Pearl Harbor incident has ever been presented to the American people.

The investigation would have to take into account not only the documentation available in the State Department and the Pentagon, but all the evidence that came out in the Tokyo trials and in the Konye diaries.

The most shocking attempt at corrupting history was announced in the Annual Report of the Rockefeller Foundation in 1946, providing a subsidy of $139,000, concerning which Professor Harry Elmer Barnes says in his pamphlet "The Court Historians Versus Revisionism":

"... Even this large sum, astronomical in the perspective of the ordinary historical scholar, did not suffice, and the Sloan Foundation made a later grant. The amount is not stated, but I have heard that it brought the total up to some $200,000. This is to cover two volumes, the second of which will bring the story down through Pearl Harbor. From the above figures, it is evident that these two volumes will be the most costly in the whole history of historical writing."

The late Professor Charles A. Beard said of this:

"Translated into precise English, this means that the (Rockefeller) Foundation and the Council (on Foreign Relations) do not want journalists or any other persons to examine too closely and criticize the official propaganda and the official statements relative to 'our basic aims and activities' during World War II. In short, they hope that, among other things, the policies and measures of Franklin D. Roosevelt will escape in the coming years the critical analysis, evaluation and exposition that befell the policies and measures of President Woodrow Wilson and the Entente Allies after World War I."

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

BRIAN and Emily were still absorbed in the brilliant display of northern lights when David swung gracefully up to them, alone.

"Quite a sight, isn't it?" he said agreeably. "I've seen lots of northern lights before, of course, in places that are most famous for them. But I have to admit I never saw anything to beat that domelike formation of light. It gives real meaning to the expression 'vault of heaven'—I haven't thought there was any before. If you really don't want to skate, Briny, you won't mind if I lure Emily away from you, will you?"

"Not if luring's what she wants. I'm going to go right on sitting here. What I'm looking at beats any skating I'll ever do."

Emily was inclined to feel much the same way. But as Brian made no effort to detain her and David was smiling engagingly, she told herself it would be pointed to decline and permitted David to raise her to her feet. As they glided away, she understood almost instantly what Priscilla had meant by saying that he skated in the same way that he danced; the ease and grace of his movements made them seem not only natural, but inevitable. Emily felt a surge of pride in the consciousness that her own performance was worthy of his, even before he voiced his approval of it.

"You're really an excellent skater. I had no idea."

"Have you made up your mind I don't do anything especially well?"

"On the contrary. You do a great many things exceptionally well. You're very capable. You know it and so do I. I never said you weren't. All I said was, that you'd never really danced, until I made you, and that you weren't especially lovable, but that you might easily become so, under the right influence."

"I'm afraid you and I haven't the same ideas about what constitutes a good influence."

"Very possibly not. But couldn't we discuss that some other time? It really seems too bad to bicker just now. It's a night in a million. You were enjoying it a lot with Briny—you were even holding hands with him, though I don't believe you realized it or that he didn't suppose the Irish were more impressionable. But that's beyond the point. The point is that you could enjoy it a lot more with me, if you'd only let yourself. Come on, make a bargain with me!"

"What kind of a bargain?"

"Just that if you don't denounce me all the time, I won't do anything to deserve it. We'll simply skate—and look at that great dome of light."

His tone held no suggestion of sarcasm now and none of sensual.

ity either; it was merely pleasant and persuasive. Emily found it amazingly easy to listen to. They circled the pond a few times, passing Priscilla and Merriweather, who were circling it in the opposite direction, and nodding gaily each time they did so. Then, by mutual, unspoken impulse, they began the execution of simple figures which gradually became more elaborate. As they finally paused, both breathless, David crowned his compliments with a question.

"You wouldn't like a race to wind up with, would you?"

"A race! What kind of a race?"

"We don't need to stay on the pond. The ice is solid on the brook a long way up beyond the dam and it's clear of snow to the end of the pasture. Priscilla and I raced on it last night."

"Who beat?"

"I did."

"Well, I'm not going to let you beat me!"

She was off with almost unbelievable speed, so fast indeed that her head start gave her considerable advantage. The pond, formed by the dam at the northern end of the pool, narrowed into the normal channel of the brook at the southern end; from there on, it took its natural curving course and had less and less width; but, as David had said, the ice was completely clear and solid. Emily skimmed over it, still keeping her head, and she did not stop when she heard David begin shouting to her. She could not hear his words, only his voice, and she did not feel that words mattered. The only thing that mattered was that she was winning the race, that she could skate faster than David, that she was doing something Priscilla could not do.

Then suddenly she was conscious that she had hurried herself against something hard and unyielding, something that hurt almost unbelievably, something against which she could not prevail. After one terrible moment of pain, the shock of it stunned her. Again she was conscious of David's voice, but not of his words, as she went down hard on the ice, twisting one foot underneath her.

He had tried to warn her of the solid fence, forming the boundary line between her aunt's land and the Randells', and he had been too late. They carried her back and put her to bed.

Emily drifted off to sleep. Once or twice she half waked, but the feeling of drowsiness, mingling, as it did, with the release from pain, was delicious; she did not try to combat it. When she finally roused to greater consciousness, she saw Roger sitting beside the bed and realized that the reason she saw him dimly was not only because she was still half asleep, but because the room was in semi-darkness. He leaned over and kissed her.

"You slept straight through dinner, darling," he said. "Lisa and I both came and looked at you several times, but you were having such a wonderful sleep that we hated to disturb you—we knew you needed rest more than anything else. I'll see about getting you something to eat in just a minute. But first, I think I ought to tell you some rather bad news—no, not bad exactly, but disappointing. At least it's disappointing to me and I'm afraid it will be to you. I think I ought to start back to Boston."

"Why, I thought you didn't have to be there until Tuesday morning!"

"That's right. But if I don't leave tonight, I'm afraid I won't be there Tuesday morning. The storm's getting worse by the minute. Listen to that wind! The barometer's still falling and the radio says that a blizzard's on the way." Roger continued. "I can't risk getting stuck here. That equity case of mine is the one that's coming up January second. You know how important that is to me personally, as well as to the firm."

"Yes, I do. Well, I suppose it can't be helped. And I suppose I've got to lie here, like a good girl, until this miserable ankle's really well."

"Of course you have. And you won't be lonely. I'm the only one who can't afford to take a chance. Mark's vacation isn't up until next week and neither Briny nor David has anything especially urgent on the calendar. Besides, Stanley Lyman's there to run errands, you know. It isn't like the old days."

They looked at each other smiling. They could afford to smile now at the recollection of the days when Roger had been the errand boy.

"Briny's going to drive me to the Junction," he continued.

"Briny's shouting to you from outside. He can't seem to make you hear. But he's ready and raring to go."

Roger snatched one more kiss, picked up his suitcase and hurried out of the room and down the stairs. Emily could hear hasty footsteps and the clatter of sleigh bells, but not distinctly. The wind was blowing harder now, the panes in the old windows were rattling and there was a whistling sound in the chimney. Elizabeth came up for her tray, bathed and bandaged her ankle again and smoothed out the bed; but she did not seem disposed to stay and talk and Emily, guessing the reason, was glad to release her. Elizabeth had brought an old cowbell, which she placed on the bedside table, and said she would leave the door into the hall open; she said she was sure she could hear Emily, even above the storm, if she rang and called loudly enough.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

Editor's Note: Every Saturday this veteran Washington newspaper correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — "By what authority," asks G. P. of Woodhaven, N. Y., together with many other readers, "did General Eisenhower go to Korea?"

Answer: Technically and legally, there was no authority for General Eisenhower's mission, which is estimated to have cost about $100,000, and which will be paid by the Treasury. He had no more right to go to the front than any other American citizen. But it must be remembered that he went at the somewhat grudging, post-election invitation of President Truman.

ADLAI TOO—What isn't generally known is that Governor Stevenson planned to make the same trip, had he been elected. In fact, he planned to tour the Far East and India, giving assurances that our role in Korea was that of a democratic friend, not an oppressor. Stevenson, of course, would have had no more right to visit that area than Eisenhower.

Moreover, there is precedent for the President-elect's errand. After the election of Herbert Hoover, he circled South America in order to give pledges of American friendliness, especially as Latin-American relations had been impaired by certain of Coolidge's "dollar diplomacy" policies.

Hoover traveled down the West Coast on the Maryland, then one of our finest battleships, and returned along the East Coast on another modern warship, the Utah. Both were made available by the Government.

Incidentally, the economical Coolidge insisted that his successor content himself with a light cruiser, which does not ride comfortably in heavy seas. But Hoover held out for and obtained the larger craft.

KNOWLEDGE—From a broader standpoint, however, any discussion of Eisenhower's authority is mere quibbling. It is to the advantage of all Americans, and the cause of world peace, that he acquaint himself with the military situation in Korea and the diplomatic problems of the Far East. A first-hand look and a council with the men in the field are worth a million reports.

Truman's own experience shows how important it is that an incoming executive be informed on world and domestic affairs. Many of his international blunders in his first days derived from F. D. R.'s failure to brief him on difficulties that had already begun to mar our relations with Moscow. Truman entered office as an international ignoramus.

Finally, a President-to-be is no ordinary citizen. For four or eight years he may hold our destinies in his hands. In these troublous times it may be a life-and-death matter that the leader of the democracies in the cold war know the score from the front lines in Korea to GHQ at the Pentagon and the White House.

CUT IN TAXES? — "Do you think that there is any chance for a cut in personal income taxes before the recent 11 per cent increase is due to expire at the end of 1953?" inquires H. L. of Little Rock, Ark.

Answer: Although that is a difficult question to answer, I believe that there is a possibility of at least a 5 per cent cut. That has been proposed by Representative Daniel A. Reed of New York, who will be chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which must originate all tax legislation.

Since personal income taxes produce only about $30 billion annually, a 5 per cent reduction would cut the Government's revenue by only $1.5 billion. With the slashes which the Republicans hope to make in the Truman budget, such a saving for the taxpayer should be possible. But it will require strict economizing on politically popular projects.

REDEMPTION — Scores of readers have asked for information on the procedure for cashing pre-Hitler, German bonds, which have recently been made redeemable under an agreement involving the United States, Britain and France. In fact, one generous gentleman has offered me a commission in return for this data. Here is the currently available information:

For information on redemption of German corporate bonds, write to the United States Commission on German corporate bonds, Suite 617, 910 Seventeenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. Do NOT send the bonds themselves. Simply ask for information in the first letter.

For information on bonds issued by the German Government, states or municipalities, write to James Grafton Rogers, chairman of the Foreign Bondholders' Protective Committee, 90 Broad Street, New York City. Validation details have not yet been completed by this organization, but an announcement is expected soon. Watch for it in the local newspapers.

AMTORG—"How was the Soviet foreign trade organization, Amtorg, set up, and who organized it?" asks T. L. C. of Los Gatos, Calif.

Answer: Amtorg was created as an international trading agency by the Soviet in the early twenties, when few nations maintained official diplomatic relations with Russia. It was a buying and selling unit, and provided a channel of trade outside diplomatic fields. We tried to do business through it, but with scant success. It should have been a warning then that "you can't do business with Joe Stalin."

There Are Three E's In Telephone

One Is For Everybody

One Is For Everywhere

One Is For Efficiency

TELEPHONE SERVICE is for everybody, everywhere. And the thing that makes you like it and want to use it is efficiency—with courtesy.

It's the tone of voice, the warmth and friendliness, the helpfulness which you have come to expect of telephone people.

The Operator reflects it when she puts through your call promptly and courteously. The girl in the Business Office shows it when she goes out of her way to take care of your needs. The Installer practices it when he brings willingness and good nature, as well as a telephone, to your home. It all adds up to pleasing service for you—from many thousands of telephone people, all along the line.

Jackson, Ashville Take Thrillers To Retain Leadership Of League

Jackson Wildcats and Ashville Broncos outlasted furious assaults Friday night to retain possession of the Pickaway County basketball league leadership.

Jackson's Cats lengthened their win record to five straight in league play Friday night in a knock-down, drag-out 50-49 victory over New Holland.

And Ashville kept its victory string unblemished in three starts Friday night by staging a last period rally to repulse invading Williamsport Deers 59-55.

Losses by Williamsport and New Holland in the crucial tests, since both were leading challengers with only one loss each before the Friday contests, leaves them unchanged in rank in standings, except putting them one game further out of the lead.

WALNUT Tigers, prior to Friday tied with Williamsport and New Holland for third place in the loop, remained in a tie after Friday night when Saltcreek Warriors unseated them.

In the Jackson-New Holland battle, one of the most thrilling in county play to date, the Jackson aggregation led off with a 12-10 advantage over the invaders.

Jackson continued to lead at the halfway mark, a 25-24 decision, and at the end of three quarters held a 39-36 margin.

New Holland turned on the steam during the final stanza however, and with little more than a minute of playing time remaining held a two-point edge over the Cats.

With one minute remaining to play, Jackson evened the score with a pair of free throws and the battle continued deadlocked down to the last 15 seconds.

It was Charles Smith who decided the outcome of the game. Smith bucketed a free throw in the last 15 seconds of the encounter to give his Jackson team the victory on the only point he made during the game.

Marion Rhoads was top scorer for the winning Wildcats with a total of 13 points, while New Holland's Ken Kirk collected a game laurels with a total of 19 counters.

Darby Collects 73-44 Victory Over Raiders

Darby Trojans basketball team played the poor host to invading Atlanta Red Raiders Friday night, sending the Raiders home humbled on the short end of a 73-44 score.

Darby gave notice of its intentions during the opening period of the game when it racked up a 20-6 lead over the Raider invaders.

Atlanta offered some resistance in the second period to whittle the lead to a 10-point 28-18 count, but Darby rebounded in the third canto to post a 53-35 advantage before whipping into the final 29-point victory.

Big Jim Grabill harvested scoring honors for his Trojan team with a total of 27 points. Harold Gerhardt was high for the Atlantans with 14.

ATLANTA'S snappy reserve team made short work of the preliminary bout, however, collecting a 47-31 win over the host reserve aggregation.

The Pickaway-Monroe fracas started off calmly enough, with the Pirate quintet holding an 18-10 lead at the end of the first period.

Then Pickaway broke loose on a scoring rampage, posting a 43-20 halftime lead and racking up a 56-30 margin in the third frame before collecting its final 45-point victory.

Pickaway's scoring antics were led in the fracas by Dave Rhoads with 27 points. Rollie Carpenter provided the most resistance for Monroe with a total of 11 points.

PIRATE reservists copped a 45-34 decision over Monroe reserves in the preliminary for a clean sweep of honors for the visiting fans.

PIGS AND PROFITS

Getting pigs up to market weight in the shortest period of time is a major problem with swine producers. They know that economical feeding plus rapid growth is the key to the profit treasure chest.

The critical nutritional period starts with the unborn pig and continues until the farrowed pigs reach a weight of 75 pounds each. To assure a better start toward earlier, profitable market weight, many successful hog raisers feed

Saltcreek '5' Upsets Tigers In 47-45 Tilt

Saltcreek Warrior basketballers marked up one of this season's first big upsets Friday night when it collected a thrilling 47-45 victory over Walnut Tigers on the Warrior court in Tarlton.

Saltcreek began the contest much the underdog, the Warriors without a win in league play in two starts and Walnut ranking among the top five teams with three wins in four starts.

A deadlocked 12-12 first period score gave promise of things to come in the encounter, with Saltcreek moving ahead by a meagre 21-20 margin at the half.

Warrior sharpshooters took heart during the third stanza to post a 35-27 edge over the invaders, and although Walnut outscored them 18-12 in the final frame managed to outlast the attack and claim the two-point win.

NED Reichelderfer was Saltcreek's big gun in the upset, whipping 16 points through the netting. Ronnie Althaus led the losers with 14.

Truman To Select New Wage Board Members; Price Chieftain Named

Freehill Gets Top OPS Post

Backlog Of 12,000 Cases To Face Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman was expected to prop up his budgeted controls program today by naming new industry members to the Wage Stabilization Board after picking a new boss for the price curb machine.

The President appointed Joseph H. Freehill Friday as administrator of the Office of Price Stabilization. Freehill, a native New Yorker, had been acting in that capacity since Tighe Woods resigned Nov. 24.

Truman told his Thursday news conference he would end the WSB paralysis before the week was out. And Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said a few hours later he had sent a list of proposed appointees to the White House.

The WSB has been unable to get to its backlog of 12,000 cases since the seven industry members resigned a week ago. They quit in a protest against Truman's action in overruling the board to bring a soft coal miners' wage increase to $1.90 a day instead of the $1.50 a day approved by WSB.

BY LAW THE three - cornered WSB can not meet unless all segments—industry, unions, the public—are represented.

The President's attempts to shore up the anti-inflation program came under mounting pressure from the scuttling of wage-price controls. But he showed no sign of being moved by the opposition of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers or the CIO.

After his appointment as OPS chief Friday, Freehill promptly announced that one-fourth of his staff must be laid off because of a lack of funds.

Freehill said OPS will cut its payroll from an estimated 5,650 employees on Jan. 1 to 4,125 by Jan. 31. Dismissal notices will go out after Christmas, he said, to 400 workers in Washington and about 1,000 in the agency's 93 field offices.

"This move is necessary," the statement said, "so we can live within the amount of money that Congress gave us to operate until next April 30 when the controls will expire unless an extension is approved."

Freehill said Congress appropriated $36,900,000 of the 62 million dollars OPS requested for operating expenses from last July through next April. He said less than 10 millions will be left on Jan. 1.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio soon may have a network of educational television stations which can potentially reach into any home in the state.

The network is proposed in a report adopted Friday by the Ohio Program Commission. It would tie in five state universities, Ohio State, Kent, Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University, educational TV stations in Cleveland and Cincinnati and—possibly later—private schools which wish to participate.

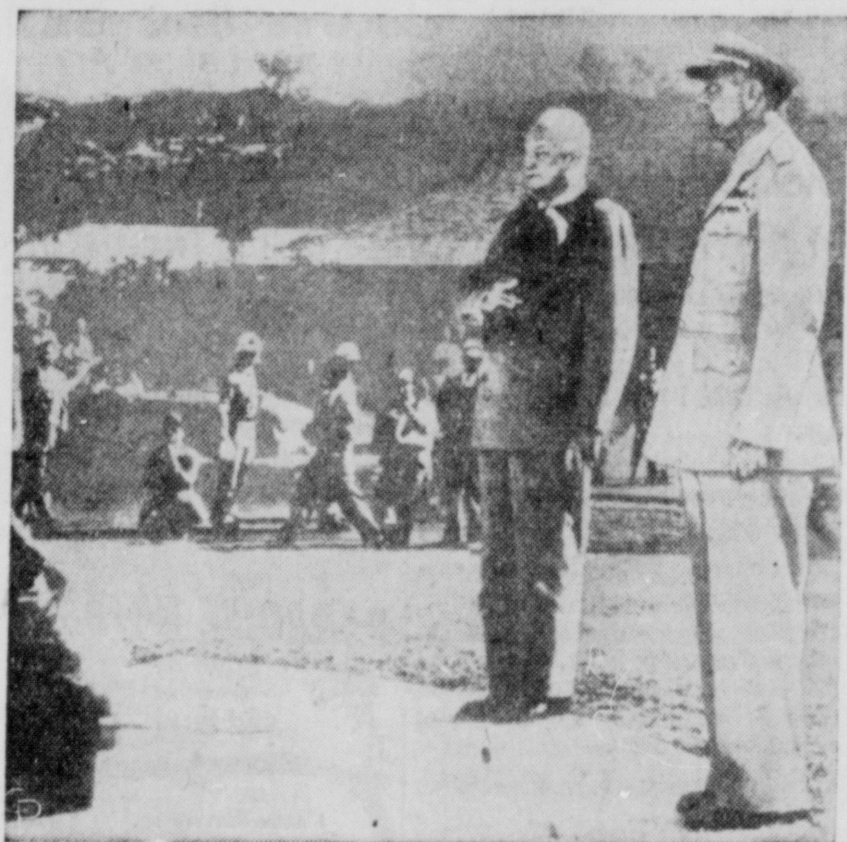

Commission chairman Roscoe R. Walcutt hailed educational television as possibly "the greatest single development in mass education since public schools were established."

The network is designed to take advantage of ultra-high frequency channels reserved for educational television by the Federal Communications Commission.

Con Guardsmen Awarded Bonus

CAMP PERRY (AP)—Ohio National Guardsmen, watching prisoners moved here after the riot and fire at Ohio Penitentiary, received roughly $50 apiece in extra pay Friday.

The money, from the state welfare department, is in addition to their military pay and covers the Nov. 16-30 period.

PRESIDENT-ELECT Eisenhower stands at attention after placing a wreath on monument to war dead in Punchbowl National cemetery, Hawaii. The cemetery is carved from crater of an extinct volcano. At right is Adm. Arthur Radford, Pacific fleet chief.

Bradley Caught In Middle Of Truman-Eisenhower Tiff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mild Gen. Omar Bradley, who doesn't like arguments, was back in town today and faced with prospects of finding himself in the middle man in an Eisenhower-Truman tiff.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and World War II colleague of Eisenhower in the battle of Europe, was picked by President-elect Eisenhower to go with him on the journey to Korea.

Eisenhower said that mission, from which he is now returning, was to seek a way for honorable conclusion of the war. But President Truman says the trip was the result of campaign demagoguery by Eisenhower.

The JCS chairman flew back to Washington Friday night, in company with Cabinet officers and advisers Eisenhower has selected and who were in the mid-Pacific conferences earlier in the week.

IT WAS EXPECTED he would make an official report at the White House today on the military situation he found in Korea, where Eisenhower and his party conferred with theater and field commanders.

But such an otherwise formal and routine report by an officer to his commander-in-chief had interesting possibilities.

What might the angry President have to say or ask about the President-elect he roundly denounced on two successive days?

And what would the benign Bradley do if the conversation took that turn?

Bradley, who usually is somewhat taciturn, was even less glib when he stepped down from the plane Friday night.

He said to a reporter that it had been a long trip. He expanded this, in talking to an aide, by saying the conference were "plenty busy in Hawaii" where Eisenhower met Cabinet designers and advisers who had flown out to meet him.

Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons, retired Army officer who will be a White House adviser to Eisenhower, described it as an informative trip which "provided opportunity to talk about problems with the men who have to handle them."

WARREN (AP)—Girls in Warren high school choir have been fainting—in groups as high as seven—right in the middle of their song.

Just a fad, said School Supt. Paul A. Miller today. The first girl swooned, he said, and the others follow suit.

Anyway, seven girls fainted Tuesday, while singing for the Exchange Club. On Wednesday, six swooned at the Rotary luncheon. The Kiwanians were startled Thursday to see five pass out.

Dr. Carl F. Scheig, the choir director, thinks the girls should eat something before a performance. Or, he says, maybe it's "auto-suggestion."

Friday, singing before the school assembly, all stayed on their feet. Doctors have checked the girls after each fainting spell and have failed to find anything wrong.

Ike's Win Margin Was 6,616,233

61,547,861 Vote For President; General Given 55.1 Pct. Edge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower defeated Gov. Adlai Stevenson for president on Nov. 4 by 6,616,233 as a vote-conscious electorate marked a record-smashing 61,547,861 ballots.

Eisenhower polled 55.1 per cent of the total presidential vote, Stevenson 44.4 and others 0.5. The "others" were minor party candidate votes. Eisenhower's ratio of the major party vote was 55.4, Stevenson's 44.6.

These are the official figures compiled as the last four states reported their canvasses Friday to complete the national count:

Eisenhower 33,927,549
Stevenson 27,311,316
Others 308,996

Presidential electors will cast their votes in the respective states Monday showing Eisenhower to have carried 39 states with an electoral vote of 442 and Stevenson to have won only nine states with 89. Congress in joint session will make the count ultra-official Jan. 6 and Eisenhower will take office Jan. 20.

THE 1952 OFFICIAL figures show many records were broken in an election that gave Eisenhower a tremendous personal victory. The total vote broke the previous record of 1940 by 11,727,549, and exceeded the 1948 aggregate by 12,859,572.

Thirty-nine states showed a better than 70 per cent turnout in relation to their estimated eligibles. Where actual registrations were known it is believed that New York led in this category with 91 per cent. Rhode Island, Connecticut, Idaho, Massachusetts, Michigan, Oklahoma and Utah exceeded this but only in percentages based on "estimated registrations" which could have been too low.

All told, a total of 62,042,777 ballots were cast over the nation, but only 61,547,861 were officially counted for president.

The higher figure, never entered in the record books, includes the highest vote in each state regardless of the contest. It embraces

Use Of Bleach Costs Man $50

COLUMBUS (AP)—Last March Frank Reid, 25, was arrested for speeding. The traffic law violation was duly entered on the back of his driver's license.

Friday, he tried to pay a fine for crashing a red light Dec. 3. The March violation, however, didn't appear on the license.

Reid told police he had experimented on the entry with a household bleach to see if the bleach would remove ink on some other papers he was filling out. Municipal Judge Wayne Fogle fined Reid $50 and costs for "altering or defacing an operator's license."

5 Universities Woo Marilyn Monroe To Get Manuscripts

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those Max Reinhardt manuscript books that Marilyn Monroe bought at auction have become "a Jonah to me," the actress says.

"So many schools want them, I hardly know what to do," she wailed Friday night as a fifth university joined in the dignified clamor for the late theatrical producer's volumes.

Marilyn said the latest plea was from the University of Kansas City. Previously USC, UCLA, Stanford and Harvard each let her know it would certainly like to add the books to their shelves.

Meanwhile USC tried a new wrinkle in wooing Marilyn's favor. A 20th-Century Fox spokesman said an invitation had been conveyed from the SC librarian to join him in his 50-yard-line box at the Rose Bowl football game on New Year's Day. The invitation included any additional guest of her choosing. Marilyn hasn't decided about accepting.

blank and void votes—those marked for state or local candidates but not for president, and those thrown out for improper marking.

An indication of the Republican candidate's personal triumph is seen in the fact that he ran ahead of his party's ticket in 31 states. He lagged behind GOP state candidates in Arizona, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Stevenson outpolled Democratic state tickets in only nine states and they topped his vote in 28. The nine where he led his party's ticket were Arizona, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North and South Dakota.

The better showing by Eisenhower than Stevenson in relation to their party's state tickets explains in large measure why the Republicans came up with such slim majorities in Congress. Despite Eisenhower's popular vote margin, his party showed net gains of only 19 House members, two senators and five governors.

Newsman Hit For Truman's Slam At Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—News Commentator H. V. Kaltenborn said Friday night reporters were more responsible than President Truman for what he called the President's "ill-tempered" remark concerning President-elect Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He said in an NBC broadcast heard across the nation except in New York that the President "should not permit himself to be trapped into indiscretions by clever appeals to his personal prejudices."

Kaltenborn suggested Eisenhower might be wise to require questions to be submitted in advance in writing in the manner that questions are asked of the prime minister in the British House of Commons.

The radio commentator referred to Truman's news conference Thursday in which the President described Eisenhower's Korean trip as demagoguery and blasted MacArthur on several grounds.

Kaltenborn said the exchanges between White House reporters and the President pointed up "the danger of a news conference at which a president of the United States allows himself to be led by the nose by clever reporters."

Concrete Poured As First Step In Rebuilding Homes Of Pollocks

First work on Circleville's huge Christmas present to two families who were burned out of their homes early Wednesday was begun early Saturday.

Concrete footers for the largest of the two small homes destroyed by flames were poured Saturday morning by Basic Construction Materials.

The fast-setting concrete is expected to be ready later Saturday for laying of cement block as foundation by Firemen Fred Howell and Bernard Wolfe.

The block foundation is to be laid in three courses high over eight inches of concrete for the new house, which will measure approximately 33x21 feet.

EARLY SUNDAY morning, about 9 a. m., residents of Circleville who are handy at building, using a hammer and saw, are asked to report to the site of the new building to pitch in and help with actual building.

Circleville lumber companies are sending lumber to the site Saturday in preparation for the volunteer building program.

Actual construction of the home to replace the larger, burned-out dwelling, will be by Karl Smith, Circleville construction company operator.

The home is to be no marvelous, new palace erected on the ashes of the former tar-paper dwelling, but rather just to replace the home as it was before fire leveled it.

All of the work is to be done for Montford (the Mole) Pollock family and Charles Pollock family, who were left homeless.

Huge and overwhelming donations of materials of all kinds have been pouring into the pot for the Pollocks, including complete supplies of household goods, clothing, food and cash.

Circleville American Legion members are to play a key role in the building program Sunday, along with tradesmen from the city who want to lend a helping hand in the project.

EXTRA cement blocks were donated Saturday by the Sturm and Dillard Gravel Co. when the original order was found to be too light. The gravel company has donated 200 cement blocks, 10 bags of mortar cement and two tons of sand to the project.

One of the top gestures was made by roofing concerns of the city, who will take over when the house is raised to completely roof it.

And a much-needed item, wiring, has been donated by Circleville REA.

Hardware supplies have been offered in plentiful quantity by Kochers, Cussins and Fearn, Boyers and Harpster and Yost, while lumber donations have been made by Ankrom's, Barnes, DeVoss, Circleville Lumber Co. and Alfred Lee. Other lumber donations have been made by Arnold Fannin and Herschel Hill.

Chief McCrady Gets Ticket

Circleville Police Chief William F. McCrady this week was tagged with a traffic violation ticket.

The Chief's car was tagged at about 7:30 p. m. Thursday at Washington and Walnut streets by Officer John White.

White said the Chief's car was parked on the sidewalk on the Walnut street side. He added the chief has not yet settled for the ticket.

Normal procedure used by the department for other persons accused of traffic violations is for a postcard to be dispatched within one week, even though each ticket says the person receiving it must report within 24 hours.

Next step is for Officer Rod List in handling the traffic tickets to notify the Chief when a person fails to appear, and a letter is sent by the Chief to the ticket-holder, usually with good results.

Cold Shoulder Believed Ahead For Truman

'Demagoguery' Jibe Irks General, Say Advisers In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—A reliable source today said President Truman's "demagoguery" statement cut President-elect Eisenhower deeply and just about killed any chance of friendly relations between the two in the future.

This reaction was disclosed a short time before Eisenhower was to leave Hawaii bound for New York City, which he left secretly just two weeks ago for Korea. He is due to arrive at the Marine air terminal at LaGuardia Field at 1 p. m. (EST) Sunday.

It was learned that Eisenhower was shocked and puzzled by President Truman's blast at his Korean trip. Informants said the President-elect felt the Truman statement was uncalled for, undignified and should be ignored.

The informants said Eisenhower would continue along the course he has set to find a solution to the Korean conflict, including a study of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals.

The once friendly relationship between Eisenhower and Truman, it was said, had been badly strained by accusations made during the heat of the presidential campaign, but the new incident points to a chilly, formal relationship in the future.

"THIS LOOKS like the finish of any informal across-the-desk meetings between the two," this source said. "If there is another meeting it probably will be a cold affair."

Truman told a news conference Thursday that the Eisenhower trip to Korea was a "piece of political demagoguery." It is known here that Eisenhower thinks this was a low blow which he did not deserve from the President.

Also, Eisenhower is represented as thinking that the Truman statement was poor psychology for the troops in Korea who had received a lift in spirits from his visit to combat units.

The President-elect considers the Korean trip, and the conferences that followed with his top advisers, a worthwhile venture that already has paid good dividends in the formation of future policy.

The general held his final major conference with his advisers Thursday evening before most of them left Hawaii to return to the mainland.

One of his advisers said, "This meeting was the most important of the whole trip. It was brief, but (Continued on Page Two)"

Neighbors Join Shooting Duel During Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shooting barrage by neighbors and the son of a tavern keeper, during a $3,000 robbery Friday, wounded two men and led to the arrest of two other persons.

Mrs. Mary Wolinski, mother of the Wolinski Tavern's owner, ran for help as three men held up a bartender.

Martin Drabek and his son Henry, called from a nearby shop, opened fire at the fleeing men. Mrs. Wolinski's son, Ray, heard the commotion, broke open a second story window and fired from there.

John Wilson, 21, and Richard Morris, 22, were arrested when they went to a hospital and a doctor's office for medical aid. Wilson, in fair condition, was quoted by police as saying he did it "so my family would have a good Christmas." Morris was reported in good condition.

Police also arrested Mrs. Dorothy Lee Howard, sister of Morris, as the driver of a getaway car. Another man, identified by patrolmen as Clarence Butler, 25, was apprehended later. The money still is missing.

Prices Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lower prices for cattle, lambs, poultry, eggs, some fruits and vegetables pulled government-measured wholesale prices down four-tenths of one per cent this week.

Taft, Bridges Due For Talk

Senate Leadership May Be Given Airing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A casual meeting tonight at a banquet may provide a clue to the identity of the Republican majority leader in the new Senate opening Jan. 3.

Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Taft (R-Ohio), two of the men discussed most prominently for the leadership post, are to be guests at the Gridiron Club Dinner at a downtown hotel.

Also expected to attend the Gridiron Dinner are two of President-elect Eisenhower's Cabinet choices — Herbert Brownell, attorney general, and George Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury, who returned here Friday night from their Pacific conference with the general.

Bridges told a news conference Friday he expected to talk with Taft at the dinner about Senate organization problems.

The Ohio senator, long his party's most influential spokesman on Capitol Hill, might indicate in that chat how he feels now about the leadership situation.

THERE WAS NO indication that Brownell or Humphrey might sit in on the Bridges-Taft conversation, although Brownell has played a prominent role in helping shape the new administration.

GOP senators now in Washington have turned increasingly toward Bridges for the leadership job in the last week.

The New Hampshire senator himself confirmed that he had been under growing pressure to take the job since Taft blasted President-elect Eisenhower's choice of Martin P. Durkin to be secretary of labor.

Some Republican senators have said they feared Taft's blistering statement might cause a party split — something they want to avoid at all costs. They look to Bridges as the best compromise choice for leader.

Route 138 Bridge Now Under Repair

The state highway department has announced bridge repairs are under way on State Route 138 northeast of Clarksburg, at a point roughly south of Williamsport.

The project, southwest of the Route 22 junction, involves a detour that adds about two miles extra distance. State crews are handling the job.

A good paved temporary route is provided.

147,000 U.S. Churches Give Christian View Of Problems

DENVER (AP) — Representatives of 147,000 American churches headed home today after issuing an unprecedented document aimed at sketching a Christian approach to the problems of our times.

The "Letter to the Christian People of America," adopted by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA, calls on churches to "sensitize the conscience of the nation."

It urges unflinching support of the United Nations, patience in solving world disputes, a halt to character assassination, a stronger religious context in education.

It asks the religious faithful to seek public office, even at personal sacrifice, condemn racial discrimination and appeals for a "pioneering spirit" in fortifying Christianity.

"The Christian church," the message said, "stands today in an alien world which is missionary in the absolute sense."

DR. JOHN MACKAY, president of Princeton Theological Seminary and head of a committee that drafted the original message, said Christian churches as a group had never before joined in a pronouncement of such scope.

It was adopted unanimously at the final session Friday of the general assembly of the council, which includes 35 million members.

The assembly also elected a new president, Methodist Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, Tex., to succeed Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of Greenwich, Conn.

Championing the role of the combined churches in speaking out on questions of national life, Bishop Martin declared:

"I am concerned that our pronouncements on issues be wise, timely and courageous, and above all, express the mind of Christ for this day as nearly as we can interpret it."

The 59-year-old Southern bishop touched on two major points:

He said he had no "definite convictions" on whether the headquarters of the national council should be moved from New York to a more central site. But he said if this isn't done, there at least should be a Midwest office.

SOME SUCH step is necessary, he suggested, to enable greater direct participation in council affairs by Westerners and Southwesterners.

He also said he had hopes that the Southern Baptists and the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran church, the only two major Protestant groups not part of the council, will form closer ties.

Legion Corps Gives Status Of Toy Tour

Circleville American Legion drum and bugle corps is anxious to gather any toys it may have missed in the South during the first two rounds of the Toy Tour.

The Toy Tour is scheduled for the Northend next Thursday night.

Southend collections on the opening night of the collections had to be halted because of a downpour of rain. It was hoped some of the Southend could be covered on the night set for central-city pickups, spokesmen for the corps explained, but this later proved impossible.

Collections in the central sections netted a full truckload of toys, in addition to $50 in cash contributions, even before all of the central area had been checked.

STRESSING the corps is anxious to know of any toys that remain to be picked up south of Main street, James P. Shea, member of the Legion unit, urged residents to remember his telephone number—351.

"We know we haven't been able to cover all the streets we wanted to check," Shea said, "but we're doing the best we can. Meanwhile, if we're told of any toys remaining to be picked up south of Main Street, we'll make special arrangements to get them."

The Legion corps, sponsoring the Toy Tour as a civic gesture with the aid of Boy Scouts, has reminded donors that broken toys cannot be accepted. Used toys however, will be welcome.

The toys are being gathered at Memorial Hall and will be distributed to needy children in the district.

very, very important in setting the course of the new administration."

It is understood there were no pin-point decisions made but that the group "did a lot of business" in establishing overall agreements in which Korea was a part.

SINCE THAT meeting, Eisenhower has spent most of his time playing golf, resting and trying to shake off a cold.

He is expected to return to his Commodore Hotel headquarters in New York Monday to continue his work there.

There is a likelihood he will meet with MacArthur some time next week to hear MacArthur's views on Korea.

MacArthur recently implied he had a plan for peace in Korea. President Truman has said that if he has MacArthur should present it to him and not wait.

One source reported there already has been "some strain at the high level" between Eisenhower's liaison men, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass) and Joseph M. Dodge, and Truman's Cabinet members.

He said there had been no friction below the Cabinet level and added he did not think what friction there was would create any problem in the orderly transfer of government from Democratic to Republican control.

Holy Name Society Backs Pledge On Christmas Meaning

Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church here has endorsed a movement launched by the National Council of Catholic Men to "put Christ back in Christmas."

The national group said it will ask all Catholic men to subscribe to a 10-point pledge which draws attention to religious significance of the Nativity.

Local endorsement was announced for the Society by Msgr. George O. Mason, pastor of St. Joseph's.

Following are the 10 points in the NCCM Christmas Pledge:

1. I promise to make my Christmas a holy day with Christ—not a holiday without Him.

2. I promise to observe Christmas as the Birthday of Christ—not merely as a day to give and receive merchandise.

3. I promise to remember that the real symbols of Christmas are the Star, the Stable, and the Crib—not Santa Claus and his reindeer.

4. I promise to teach my children that "Santa Claus" is the nickname of St. Nicholas, who gave to the poor in honor of Christ.

5. I promise to help one poor family, in honor of Jesus, Mary and Joseph, the Holy Family of Bethlehem.

6. I promise to send Christmas cards reminding of Him, the Infant Savior—not cards decorated only with candy canes, puppy dogs, ribbons and wreaths.

7. I promise to make room in my home for Him, Who found no room at the inn; with a Christmas crib to remind me that He was born in a stable.

8. I promise during this season in a special way, to honor Mary, His mother, who kept the first Christmas vigil beside the manger.

9. I promise to begin this day by leading my family to His table to receive the Bread of Life.

10. I promise, on this and every day, to give "Glory to God in the Highest," and to work and pray for "Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will."

'Soul Journey' Is Theme For Christ Church

Church of Christ will meet Sunday in the Farm Bureau Home, 159 E. Main St. The sermon subject for the 10:30 a. m. worship will be "The Journey of a Soul."

In a brief outline given of this lesson, Evangelist Charles Cochran says:

"When an infant is born into this world it is in a state of innocence. It has no sin to cause it to be lost and should it die in its infancy it would be safe in the paradise of God. When the child grows to the age of accountability it then is responsible for its deeds and actions and as no individual is good enough to live in this sinful world without sinning (1 John 1:8-10), and as the 'wages of sin is death' (Rom. 6:23), then the individual is in a state of condemnation before God.

"Should one die while in this state he would die without hope and alienated from God (Eph. 2:12).

"Obedience to the gospel plan of salvation brings us into a state of justification before God. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (2 Cor. 5:17). There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit" (Rom. 8:1).

"The consummating step that puts one into Christ is baptism. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Gal. 3:27).

"After becoming a new creature in Christ and living faithfully unto death the child of God is assured of the crown of life (Rev. 2:10). Our salvation is hinged upon our 'being faithful' to death. It is possible to fall away and be a castaway. Hear Paul, 'But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway' (1 Cor. 9:27).

Christmas Peace Sermon Planned For First EUB

"The Peace of Christmas" is the sermon theme for worship Sunday in First Evangelical United Brethren church at 9:30 a. m.

Advent music by Miss Lucille Kirkwood, organist, is prelude, "Moonlight over Nazareth"; offertory, "O Come, O Come, Immanuel"; and postlude, "Procession of the Magi."

The congregation will sing a Christmas hymn, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," followed by the scriptural exhortation by Church School Superintendent Edwin Richardson and morning prayer by the pastor.

Church Choir, under the direction of Montford Kirkwood Jr., will sing an anthem, "Winds through the Olive Trees."

The scriptural directive in St. Luke 2:10 and 11 serves as the foundation for the message, "The Peace of Christmas."

Of this Advent theme the Rev. Carl L. Wilson says: "The event which projected this scripture is the nativity of the world's Redeemer; an event of most astonishing and glorious description; an unprecedented event; an event which only occurred once within the history of the world.

"The coming of the angel, an ambassador from heaven to earth, from God to man, was a messenger of peace. God especially honored the calling of the shepherds to whom the news came and they reacted in perfect peace as they set forth to find the Christ-child.

"They were at peace in soul when they knelt at the manger altar to worship Him. The tidings that a prophecy had been fulfilled and that a Messiah had come quieted the anxious hearts of every true believer. Tidings of divine grace and salvation brought peace to all who heard and believed. The dignity, power and glory of God was manifested in the giving of His Savior Son, the Anointed One, the Sent One, commissioned and qualified to bring 'good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.'

"There is peace expressed in this universal application of good tidings. Christ as Saviour, first to the Jews. He was of their seed and lived with them. But 'to all people' brings peace to the Gentiles in that Christ the Lord is Saviour of all. Is the end and peace of Christ's birth answered in us today? Is He truly Saviour and Lord indeed? If so then let all people rejoice in this peace, this spiritual joy, this eternal revelation."

Church school classes will study a Bible lesson, "Jesus Dispel Fear." The School is graded with classes meeting in separate rooms for Christian education instruction and Bible study.

Children's department will meet in the service center at 9:30 a. m. for its class sessions, followed by junior church worship service from 10:30 a. m. until 11:00 a. m.

After Christmas, the "Mitten Tree" will be unloaded and the useful clothing gifts will be distributed to the principals of Circleville's schools for needy children.

Mankind Theme To Be Heard In Calvary Church

"Mankind, Human and Divine" is the sermon topic which the Rev. James A. Herbst of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church has chosen for worship service Sunday.

The sermon is based upon scripture story of the life of Peter, taken from the book of Luke and Acts, which shows the truly human side of Peter and then his Christ-like nature after God had fully entered into his life. Peter is but a reflection of mankind today and the best and the worst that can be expected from him in accordance to what his relationship is to God and Christ.

The Rev. Mr. Herbst will be assisted in the service of worship by Clark Zwyer, Miss Minnie Wilkerson and the Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Herbst. Zwyer, assistant Sunday School superintendent, will lead in the call to worship, Gloria Patri, Apostle's hymns.

Presbyterians To Have Rite On Advent

With seasonal emphasis upon the Advent of our Lord, worship in Presbyterian church Sunday points to the nearer approach of that eve before Christmas when, in the little town of Bethlehem of Judea, inland from the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea, innkeepers greeted a young husband and wife, both weary with travel, saying, "We have no room."

Reading from the new Standard Revised Version of the Bible, the record of this historic event in the Gospel of St. Luke, chapter 2, the Rev. Donald Mitchell will deliver a sermon on the subject: "No Room."

The Choir will lead the congregation in the singing of carols depicting the birth. Mrs. M. W. Burkhardt will sing a soprano solo, "Lullaby," from the Christmas Cantata, "Bethlehem."

Mrs. T. L. Huston at the organ will play a rhapsody on "Old Carol Melodies," "Coventry Carol," and "Angels O'er the Fields."

Sharing the worship of the hour will be the members of the SOS, and Hi-Y Clubs of Circleville High School and their advisors.

At 2 p. m., all members of Westminster Fellowship Youth Group will meet in the church.

At 8 p. m., the Couples Club will meet in the Social Rooms for a tree trimming ceremony and Christmas Program, at which time provisions and supplies for a needy family will be prepared and packed ready for delivery.

Baptism Rite Planned Sunday By Lutherans

Baptism will be observed Sunday during worship service in Trinity Lutheran church with the Rev. George Troutman officiating.

He will also accept as members adults through the "Rite of Confirmation" and by letter of transfer.

The Rev. Mr. Troutman will preach on the text Matt. 7:13 and 14, using the theme, "Confirmation, a Day of Decision." He will stress we are to decide first our destination, whether we desire life eternal or everlasting destruction.

"Once you have made that decision, then you are to choose the proper entrance and way that leads to your destination. The gate is wide and the way is easy, that leads to destruction, and who enter by it are many."

"But the way and entrance to eternal life is much different," says Pastor Troutman, "For the gate is narrow and the way is hard, that leads to life, and those who find it are few."

"True the way is not easy; but we press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus," being fully confident that we 'can do all things in Him who strengthens us.'

Bible Words To Live By

Matthew 5:13-14:—"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltiness be restored?—You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid."

Christian character is the essential saving quality in our world. It is always dependable as a consistent and positive power in determining the moral quality of society. It demonstrates an unmistakable and a courageous faith in the moral and spiritual order of the world ruled by a God of justice, righteousness, love and mercy.

Jesus made Christian character central and basic. His followers "are salt" and "are light." It would have been entirely different if he had said "You have salt" and "You have light." There is a vast difference in having an external something in our possession and in being something ourselves. The language of Jesus is clear. It requires us to be "salt" and to be "light."

Christian character is constant and unchanging. It faithfully expresses and reveals its Christlike qualities in every situation and under all circumstances. It can never conform to the worldly ways of convenience and expediency.

It reveals Christian brotherliness at all times to all persons.

Communion Due For Holy Name Group Sunday

Members of Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Catholic church will receive Communion as a group at the 8 a. m. Mass Sunday. Monday will be "Sanctuary Day" for the members of the Altar society.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember days. Wednesday and Saturday are days of fasting and partial abstinence and Friday is a day of total fasting and abstinence.

Thursday evening, members of the CYO will present a Christmas playette in the basement of the church.

At both Sunday Masses, Msgr. Mason will lead the congregation in the "Pledge of the Legion of Decency," which is taken each year within the octave of the feast of the Immaculate Conception. The pledge reads as follows—

"I condemn indecent and immoral pictures, and those which glorify crime or criminals.

"I promise to do all that I can to strengthen public opinion against the production of indecent and immoral films, and to unite with all who protest against them.

"I acknowledge my obligations to form a right conscience about pictures that are dangerous to my moral life. As a member of the Legion of Decency, I pledge myself to remain away from them. I promise, further, to stay away altogether from places of amusement which show them as a matter of policy."

SOVIET STRIDES

THAT THE RUSSIANS have not weakened in the struggle for air supremacy is to be seen in new disclosures on Soviet aircraft progress.

Jane's authentic "All the World's Aircraft" handbook lists development by the Reds of a B-29 prototype which can release two jet fighters from high altitudes, an advanced Russian jet faster than the MIG-15, and a new six-engine bomber believed capable of flying from Russia to U.S. targets and back.

All this is over and above the fact that the Russian aircraft industry is currently outproducing American plants by an uncomfortable margin. It is contended, of course, that Russian planes are less intricate than U.S.

It is also argued that American production could overtake the Russian lead if it is given full throttle, which presumably will not happen unless there is all-out war. A desire to rev up the U.S. war machine is the first reaction to news of new Russian air strides. But such impatience is regarded in many circles as weakness that must be restrained. With the U.S. carrying water on both shoulders, in terms of balanced military and civilian production, little more can be expected of the nation's present aircraft development and production program than is being achieved.

MAC AND IKE

AS GENERAL EISENHOWER comes home after his momentous inspection trip to Korea, followed by top level conferences with his cabinet disignees, world attention is focused more sharply than ever on possible ways to resolve the conflict.

Most frequently expressed opinion resulting from the President-elect's dramatic tour is that if an armistice is not reached by spring a large-scale offensive will be mounted shortly thereafter.

Meantime, in New York General MacArthur intimates he has in mind a definite solution for ending the Korean stalemate. Eisenhower's initial expression of the situation as expressed to the press is that it admits of military improvement but not of miracles. This is the reaction of a skilled military observer. As a rational person Eisenhower knows only too well that his three-day breath-taking spin on and over the embattled peninsula does not qualify him as an expert.

These Days

The 83rd Congress is likely to be an investigative body, seeking an explanation for events that occurred perhaps long ago and about which little or nothing can be done any longer, but which can guide Congress in the preparation of legislation to prevent similar acts.

For instance, the evasion of the Constitution by President Truman in the matter of the Korean War, already investigated by the Russell Committee, requires further study. Under the Charter of the United Nations, President Truman had the right to send Americans to Korea; the Charter actually amends the Constitution. Senator Bricker is fighting out that issue with a proposed amendment to the Constitution that will also require investigation and analysis.

I understand that Senator Homer Ferguson will have another look at what happened at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. There has been one investigation of that event, but it left the whole matter hanging in the air. The report of the investigators is so full of loop-holes, of omissions and the whole report is so covered with white-wash, that it may be said that no accurate statement of the Pearl Harbor incident has ever been presented to the American people.

The investigation would have to take into account not only the documentation available in the State Department and the Pentagon, but all the evidence that came out in the Tokyo trials and in the Konoye diaries.

The most shocking attempt at corrupting history was announced in the Annual Report of the Rockefeller Foundation in 1946, providing a subsidy of $139,000, concerning which Professor Harry Elmer Barnes says in his pamphlet "The Court Historians Versus Revisionism":

"... Even this large sum, astronomical in the perspective of the ordinary historical scholar, did not suffice, and the Sloan Foundation made a later grant. The amount is not stated, but I have heard that it brought the total up to some $200,000. This is to cover two volumes, the second of which will bring the story down through Pearl Harbor. From the above figures, it is evident that these two volumes will be the most costly in the whole history of historical writing."

The late Professor Charles A. Beard said of this:

"Translated into precise English, this means that the (Rockefeller) Foundation and the Council (on Foreign Relations) do not want journalists or any other persons to examine too closely and criticize the official propaganda and the official statements relative to 'our basic aims and activities' during World War II. In short, they hope that, among other things, the policies and measures of Franklin D. Roosevelt will escape in the coming years the critical analysis, evaluation and exposition that befall the policies and measures of President Woodrow Wilson and the Entente Allies after World War I."

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

BRIAN and Emily were still absorbed in the brilliant display of northern lights when David swung gracefully up to them, alone.

"Quite a sight, isn't it?" he said agreeably. "I've seen lots of northern lights before, of course, in places that are most famous for them. But I have to admit I never saw anything to beat that domelike formation of light. It gives real meaning to the expression 'vault of heaven'—I haven't thought there was any before. If you really don't want to skate, Briny, you won't mind if I lure Emily away from you, will you?"

"Not if luring's what she wants. I'm going to go right on sitting here. What I'm looking at beats any skating I'll ever do."

Emily was inclined to feel much the same way. But as Brian made no effort to detain her and David was smiling engagingly, she told herself it would be pointed to decline and permitted David to raise her to her feet. As they glided away, she understood almost instantly what Priscilla had meant by saying that he skated in the same way that he danced; the ease and grace of his movements made them seem not only natural, but inevitable. Emily felt a surge of pride in the consciousness that her own performance was worthy of his, even before he voiced his approval of it.

"You're really an excellent skater. I had no idea."

"Have you made up your mind I don't do anything especially well?"

"On the contrary. You do a great many things exceptionally well. You're very capable. You know it and so do I. I never said you weren't. All I said was that you'd never really danced, until I made you, and that you weren't especially lovable, but that you might easily become so, under the right influence."

"I'm afraid you and I haven't the same ideas about what constitutes a good influence."

"Very possibly not. But couldn't we discuss that some other time? It really seems too bad to bicker just now. It's a night in a million. You were enjoying it a lot with Briny—you were even holding hands with him, though I don't believe you realized it or that he did. I supposed the Irish were more impressionable. But that's beyond the point. The point is that you could enjoy it a lot more with me, if you'd only let yourself. Come on, make a bargain with me!"

"What kind of a bargain?"

"Just that if you don't denounce me all the time, I won't do anything to deserve it. We'll simply skate—and look at that great dome of light."

His tone held no suggestion of sarcasm now and none of sensual.

ity either; it was merely pleasant and persuasive. Emily found it amazingly easy to listen to. They circled the pond a few times, passing Priscilla and Merriweather, who were circling it in the opposite direction, and nodding gaily each time they did so. Then, by mutual, unspoken impulse, they began the execution of simple figures which gradually became more elaborate. As they finally paused, both breathless, David crowned his compliments with a question.

"You wouldn't like a race to wind up with, would you?"

"A race? What kind of a race?"

"We don't need to stay on the pond. The ice is solid on the brook a long way up beyond the dam and it's clear of snow to the end of the pasture. Priscilla and I raced on it last night."

"Who beat?"

"I did."

"Well, I'm not going to let you beat me!"

She was off with almost unbelievable speed, so fast indeed that her head start gave her considerable advantage. The pond, formed by the dam at the northern end of the pool, narrowed into the normal channel of the brook at the southern end; from there on, it took its natural curving course, and had less and less width; but, as David had said, the ice was completely clear and solid. Emily skimmed over it, still keeping her lead, and she did not stop when she heard David begin shouting to her. She could not hear his words, only his voice, and she did not feel that words mattered. The only thing that mattered was that she was winning the race, that she could skate faster than David, that she was doing something Priscilla could not do...

Then suddenly she was conscious that she had hurried herself against something hard and unyielding, something that hurt almost unbelievably, something against which she could not prevail. After one terrible moment of pain, the shock of it stunned her. Again she was conscious of David's voice, but not of his words, as she went down hard on the ice, twisting one foot underneath her.

He had tried to warn her of the solid fence, forming the boundary line between her aunt's land and the Randells', and he had been too late. They carried her back and put her to bed.

Emily drifted off to sleep. Once or twice she half waked, but the feeling of drowsiness, mingling, as it did, with the release from pain, was delicious; she did not try to combat it. When she finally roused to greater consciousness, she saw Roger sitting beside the bed and realized that the reason she saw him dimly was not only because she was still half asleep, but because the room was in semi-darkness. He leaned over and kissed her.

It was a buying and selling unit, and provided a channel of trade outside diplomatic fields. We tried to do business through it, but with scant success. It should have been a warning then that "you can't do business with Joe Stalin."

news behind the news

Editor's Note: Every Saturday this veteran Washington newspaper correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—"By what authority," asks G. P. of Woodhaven, N. Y., together with many other readers, "did General Eisenhower go to Korea?"

Answer: Technically and legally, there was no authority for General Eisenhower's mission, which is estimated to have cost about $100,000, and which will be paid by the Treasury. He had no more right to go to the front than any other American citizen. But it must be remembered that life went at the somewhat grudging, post-election invitation of President Truman.

ADLAI TOO—What isn't generally known is that Governor Stevenson planned to make the same trip, had he been elected. In fact, he planned to tour the Far East and India, giving assurances that our role in Korea was that of a democratic friend, not an oppressor. Stevenson, of course, would have had no more right to visit that area than Eisenhower.

Moreover, there is precedent for the President-elect's errand. After the election of Herbert Hoover, he circled South America in order to give pledges of American friendliness, especially as Latin-American relations had been impaired by certain of Coolidge's "dollar diplomacy" policies.

Hoover traveled down the West Coast on the Maryland, then one of our finest battleships, and returned along the East Coast on another modern warship, the Utah. Both were made available by the Government.

Incidentally, the economical Coolidge insisted that his successor content himself with a light cruiser, which does not ride comfortably in heavy seas. But Hoover held out for and obtained the larger craft.

KNOWLEDGE—From a broader standpoint, however, any discussion of Eisenhower's authority is mere quibbling. It is to the advantage of all Americans, and the cause of world peace, that he acquaint himself with the military situation in Korea and the diplomatic problems of the Far East. A first-hand look and a council with the men in the field are worth a million reports.

Truman's own experience shows how important it is that an incoming executive be informed on world and domestic affairs. Many of his international blunders in his first days derived from F. D. R.'s failure to brief him on difficulties that had already begun to mar our relations with Moscow. Truman entered office as an international ignoramus.

Finally, a President-to-be is no ordinary citizen. For four or

Mrs. Jones spoke of ornaments made of felt and tin.

Mrs. Turney Pontius gave a review of the Ashville Garden Club meeting, during which Mrs. Edward Ray demonstrated Christmas arrangements. She said that Mrs. Ray made many arrangements from tin cans, dried materials and evergreens. She exhibited a door swag made from a coat hanger and chicken wire, made to represent a Christmas tree.

Mrs. Jurek and Mrs. Croman told about the beauty of the Kingston Garden Club Christmas exhibit, where the arrangements were mostly traditional.

Mrs. A. J. Lyle exhibited Christmas packages decorated with cutouts from old Christmas cards and showed how to make snow men from discarded spoons and cotton. Mrs. Elza Brooks, president, gave a short reading and offered prayer. Mrs. Harold Fee, secretary, gave the report and roll call, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Ben Walker.

Members voted to send a donation to the Otterbein Home. Contests were won by Mrs. Harold Wilson and Mrs. Carol Reid. Mrs. Lois Palmer and Mrs. Brooks sang a duet, "Silent Night," accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Ward, who also sang a solo, "The Birthday of a King."

Several members participated in a brief candle lighting ceremony, during which the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Hopper were presented a gift from the society. Each member received a gift from her mystery sister and each child received a gift.

There Are Three E's In Telephone

One Is For Everybody

One Is For Everywhere

One Is For Efficiency

TELEPHONE SERVICE is for everybody, everywhere. And the thing that makes you like it and want to use it is efficiency—with courtesy.

It's the tone of voice, the warmth and friendliness, the helpfulness which you have come to expect of telephone people.

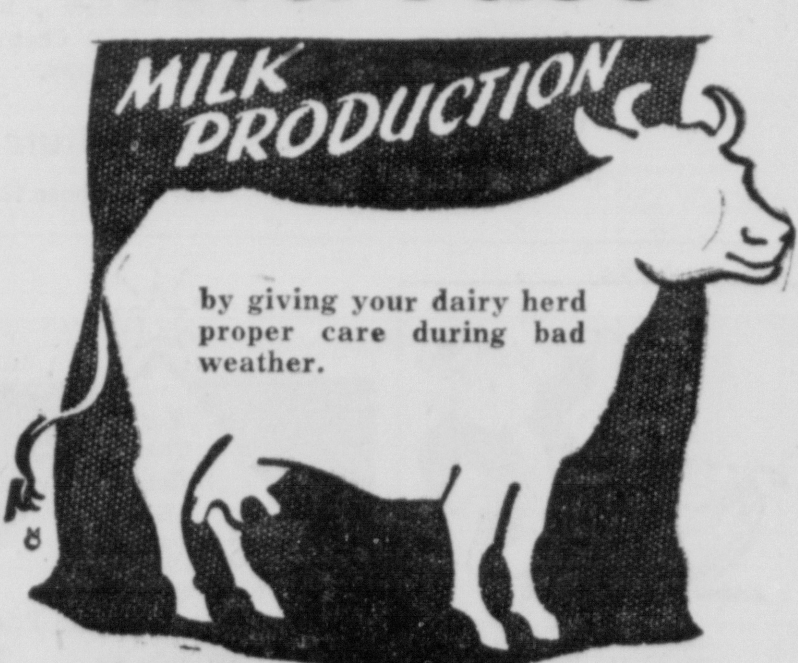

The Operator reflects it when she puts through your call promptly and courteously. The girl in the Business Office shows it when she goes out of her way to take care of your needs. The Installer practices it when he brings willingness and good nature, as well as a telephone, to your home. It all adds up to pleasing service for you—from many thousands of telephone people, all along the line.

Of course, this cannot happen.

History has a way of asserting itself in the United States often it is the Congressional committee uncovered the hidden and obscure. Perhaps Senator Wiley's committee may undertake a study of Teheran and Yalta, two events most costly in American lives, wealth and prestige.

The guesses concerning Teheran and Yalta have been numerous and while considerable data has become available, the whole story has not been told. For instance, it is no longer a secret that the Japanese Russians entered the Far Eastern war; that Japan had lost her shipping and therefore could not continue.

Yet, the peace was delayed until the Russians came in and for one week of war, the Russians were placed in a position to conquer China and Korea, getting also, as an extra bonus, half of Sakhalin and the whole of the Kurile Islands.

How did all this come about? A Senate committee, I am sure, ought to be able to discover the facts that the American military experts were sure that they could take Japan without Russia coming into the Far Eastern war.

True, all this is water over the dam, but the same cannot be said of our enormous casualties in the Korean War.

The investigative authority of Congress is invaluable to the people as a protection against falsehood, subversion and tyranny. It is so easy for the official to mark every document "top secret," to protect his own errors.

Often such documents contain nothing that newspapers have not already reported but without official validity.

Jackson, Ashville Take Thrillers To Retain Leadership Of League

Jackson Wildcats and Ashville Broncos outlasted furious assaults Friday night to retain possession of the Pickaway County basketball league leadership.

Jackson's Cats lengthened their win record to five straight in league play Friday night in a knock-out, drag-out 50-49 victory over New Holland.

And Ashville kept its victory string unblemished in three straight Friday night by staging a last period rally to repulse invading Williamsport Deers 59-55.

Losses by Williamsport and New Holland in the crucial tests, since both were leading challengers with only one loss each before the Friday contests, leaves them unchanged in rank in standings, except putting them one game further out of the lead.

WALNUT Tigers, prior to Friday tied with Williamsport and New Holland for third place in the loop, remained in a tie after Friday night when Saltcreek Warriors unseated them.

In the Jackson-New Holland battle, one of the most thrilling in county play to date, the Jackson aggregation led off with a 12-10 advantage over the invaders.

Jackson continued to lead at the halfway mark, a 25-24 decision, and at the end of three quarters held a 39-36 margin.

New Holland turned on the steam during the final stanza however, and with little more than a minute of playing time remaining held a two-point edge over the Cats.

With one minute remaining to play, Jackson evened the score with a pair of free throws and the battle continued deadlocked down to the last 15 seconds.

It was Charles Smith who decided the outcome of the game. Smith bucketed a free throw in the last 15 seconds of the encounter to give his Jackson team, the victory on the only point he made during the game.

Marion Rhoads was top scorer for the winning Wildcats with a total of 13 points, while New Holland's Ken Kirk collected a game laurels with a total of 19 counters.

Darby Collects 73-44 Victory Over Raiders

Darby Trojans basketball team played the poor host to invading Atlanta Red Raiders Friday night, sending the Raiders home humbled on the short end of a 73-44 score.

Darby gave notice of its intentions during the opening period of the game when it racked up a 26-6 lead over the Raider invaders.

Atlanta offered some resistance in the second period to whittle the lead to a 10-point 28-18 count, but Darby rebounded in the third can to post a 53-35 advantage before whipping into the final 29-point victory.

Big Jim Grabill harvested scoring honors for his Trojan team with a total of 27 points. Harold Gerhardt was high for the Atlantas with 14.

ATLANTA'S snappy reserve team made short work of the preliminary bout, however, collecting a 47-31 win over the host reserve aggregation.

PIGS AND PROFITS

Getting pigs up to market weight in the shortest period of time is a major problem with swine producers. They know that economical feeding plus rapid growth is the key to the profit treasure chest.

The critical nutritional period starts with the unborn pig and continues until the farrowed pigs reach a weight of 75 pounds each. To assure a better start toward earlier, profitable market weight, many successful hog raisers feed

Saltcreek Warrior basketballers marked up one of this season's first big upsets Friday night when it collected a thrilling 47-45 victory over Walnut Tigers on the Warrior court in Tarlton.

Saltcreek began the contest much the underdog, the Warriors without a win in league play in two starts and Walnut ranking among the top five teams with three wins in four starts.

A deadlocked 12-12 first period score gave promise of things to come in the encounter, with Saltcreek moving ahead by a meagre 21-20 margin at the half.

Warrior sharpshooters took heart during the third stanza to post a 35-27 edge over the invaders, and although Walnut outscored them 18-12 in the final frame managed to outlast the attack and claim the two-point win.

NED Reichelderfer was Saltcreek's big gun in the upset, whipping 16 points through the netting. Ronnie Althaus led the losers with 14.
